Further Spelling Conventions

To spell simple compound words (e.g. dustbin, football).

To read words that they have spelt.

To take part in the process of segmenting spoken words into phonemes before choosing graphemes to represent those phonemes.

To spell more words with contracted forms, e.g. can't, didn't, hasn't, couldn't, it's, I'll.

To learn the possessive singular apostrophe (e.g. the girl's book).

To write, from memory, simple sentences dictated by the teacher that include words using the GPCs, common exception words and punctuation taught so far.

To segment spoken words into phonemes and to then represent all of the phonemes using graphemes in the right order for both for single-syllable and multi-syllabic words.

To self-correct misspellings of words that pupils have been taught to spell (this may require support to recognise misspellings).

To spell some more complex homophones and near-homophones, including here/hear, brake/break and mail/male.

To use the first two or three letters of a word to check its spelling in a dictionary.

To spell words that use the possessive apostrophe with plural words, including irregular plurals (e.g. girls', boys', babies', children's, men's, mice's).

To use their spelling knowledge to use a dictionary more efficiently.

To spell complex homophones and near-homophones, including who's/whose and stationary/stationery.

To use the first three or four letters of a word to check spelling, meaning or both of these in a dictionary.

To spell homophones and near homophones that include nouns that end in -ce/-cy and verbs that end in -se/-sy (e.g. practice/practise, licence/license, advice/advise).

To spell words that contain hyphens (e.g. co-ordinate, re-enter, co-operate, co-own).

To use a knowledge of morphology and etymology in spelling and understand that the spelling of some words needs to be learnt specifically.

To use dictionaries and thesauruses to check the spelling and meaning of words and confidently find synonyms and antonyms.

To reread to check that their writing makes sense and that the correct tense is used throughout.

To proofread to check for errors in spelling, grammar and punctuation (e.g. to check that the ends of sentences are punctuated correctly).

To begin to use ideas from their own reading and modelled examples to plan their writing.

To proofread their own and others' work to check for errors (with increasing accuracy) and to make improvements.

To begin to organise their writing into paragraphs around a theme.

To compose and rehearse sentences orally (including dialogue).

To compose and rehearse sentences orally (including dialogue), progressively building a varied and rich vocabulary and an increasing range of sentence structures.

To consistently organise their writing into paragraphs around a theme to add cohesion and to aid the reader.

To proofread consistently and amend their own and others' writing, correcting errors in grammar, punctuation and spelling and adding nouns/pronouns for cohesion.

To plan their writing by identifying the audience for and purpose of the writing, selecting the appropriate form and using other similar writing as models for their own.

To consider, when planning narratives, how authors have developed characters and settings in what pupils have read, listened to or seen performed.

To proofread work to précis longer passages by removing unnecessary repetition or irrelevant details.

To consistently link ideas across paragraphs.

To proofread their work to assess the effectiveness of their own and others' writing and to make necessary corrections and improvements.

To note down and develop initial ideas, drawing on reading and research where necessary.

To use further organisational and presentational devices to structure text and to guide the reader (e.g. headings, bullet points, underlining).

To use a wide range of devices to build cohesion within and across paragraphs.

To habitually proofread for spelling and punctuation errors.

To propose changes to vocabulary, grammar and punctuation to enhance effects and clarify meaning.

To recognise how words are related by meaning as synonyms and antonyms and to use this knowledge to make improvements to their writing.

Listen to and talk about stories to build familiarity and understanding

Retell the story, once they have developed a deep familiarity with the text; some as exact repetition and some in their own words.

Use new vocabulary in different contexts.

Write short sentences with words with known letter-sound correspondences using a capital letter and a full stop.

Re-read what they have written to check it makes sense.

Develop storylines in their pretend play.
